

Your Three-Story Interview Bank

Prepare versatile examples before you are asked for a perfect answer on the spot.

THE DECISION

A small bank of truthful stories can cover more ground than a scripted answer for every imaginable question. The goal is to choose examples with decisions, tension, actions and outcomes that adapt to different competencies.

THREE MOVES

→ Choose one story about leading change, one about solving a difficult problem and one about learning from a setback.

→ Write only the Situation, Task, Action and Result prompts—not a word-for-word script.

→ For every story, mark exactly what you did so collaboration does not obscure your contribution.

TRY THIS BEFORE YOUR NEXT STEP

Set a 90-second timer and explain one story aloud. If the action is unclear, reduce the context and expand the decision you made.

Reading note: This is a sample briefing for educational reading. It is not a historic newsletter send and does not guarantee an interview, offer or outcome. Framework reference: MIT Career Advising & Professional Development — STAR method.